

Average Number of Days from Foreclosure Start to Sale from 1999 to 2012
Washington, D.C.

| Year ForeclosureStarted | Average Time to Foreclosure Sale (Days)              |       |                            |                      |
|-----------------------------|--|-------|----------------------------|----------------------|
|                             | Number of PropertiesGoing to ForeclosureSale | Total | Single-FamilyHomes | Condominiumunits |
| 1999                        | 644  | 294   | 294                        | 279                  |
| 2000                        | 491  | 258   | 255                        | 403                  |
| 2001                        | 329  | 191   | 188                        | 241                  |
| 2002                        | 151  | 246   | 238                        | 359                  |
| 2003                        | 71   | 403   | 402                        | 405                  |
| 2004                        | 113  | 453   | 457                        | 431                  |
| 2005                        | 95   | 471   | 452                        | 545                  |
| 2006                        | 232  | 379   | 377                        | 388                  |
| 2007                        | 727  | 302   | 312                        | 264                  |
| 2008                        | 1030   | 273   | 273                        | 269                  |
| 2009                        | 885  | 255   | 263                        | 233                  |
| 2010                        | 882  | 177   | 207                        | 161                  |
| 2011                        | 5  | 155   | 170                        | 94                   |

SOURCES: D.C. Recorder of Deeds and Office of Tax and Revenue data tabulated by NeighborhoodInfo DC.